TERMS & CONDITIONS OF CARRIAGE SERVICE - Effective date Jan. 2026

By handing over any shipment to the company, or by requesting pickup, booking, or confirming via any electronic means, the sender confirms that all information and declarations provided are true, complete, and accurate.

The sender is solely responsible for ensuring that the shipment contents comply with all applicable laws, customs regulations, and import/export policies of both the origin and destination countries.

The company reserves the right to refuse, hold, return, or cancel any shipment if the required documents, declarations, or approvals are incomplete, suspicious, or unavailable. In such cases, all return charges from our hub to the sender's address shall be fully borne by the sender.

The sender confirms that the shipment does not contain any prohibited, restricted, dangerous, illegal, or undeclared items. Any consequences arising from such items shall be the sole responsibility of the sender.

The company acts only as a forwarding and logistics service agent and shall not be held liable for any delays, confiscation, customs duties, penalties, taxes, inspection, or seizure by customs, airlines, airports, or government authorities.

Any delivery time provided by the company is an estimate only and is not guaranteed. The company shall not be liable for any compensation due to delays caused by customs clearance, weather conditions, airline issues, operational issues, public holidays, war, strikes, or any unforeseen circumstances.

The company shall not be liable for delays, non-delivery, confiscation, seizure, or destruction of shipments caused by customs authorities, government agencies, airlines, or other regulatory bodies. The sender shall be responsible for paying
